GETS THOUSANDS BUT MISS MILLIONS

Drill 100 Holes Before The Interior of Treasure Cove is Reached.

New York, Aug. 16.—Tunneling through the ceiling of a basement room, and then cutting a hole through the five-eighths-inch steel floor of the vault of a bank in the lower part of New York, a band of robbers secured $12,000 in bills of large denominations and missed $3,000,000 more in cash.

Though the robbery was committed more than two months ago, it became public today for the first time. An impenetrable cloak of mystery has been thrown around the crime, and directors of the bank, the names of which have not been revealed, have made up the loss from their personal resources. News of the robbery was withheld from police and newspapers because the directors feared a run on the bank.

Instead of aiding the authorities to catch the criminals, Raymond C. Stankor, formerly New York manager of the Bureau Detective Agency was employed. He admits progress has been slow and no definite idea as to who the robbers were has been reached.

The robbers gained access to the building through the coal hole followed the chute to the engine room and thence to an unused room adjoining, where they erected a scaffolding to reach the ceiling about fifteen feet high.

They cut a hole large enough to admit a man's body through the plaster ceiling and then drilled 100 holes in a circle through the steel floor of the vault. Sawing out this circle a man crawled through the two holes stood upright in the vault and passed at the cash he could find down to his confederates below.

They got $12,000, but in a small safe inside the vault they found $3,000,000 more, and the combination to this safe was pinned upon the wall of the vault where the robbers could have read it and opened the safe, had they taken the time.

Almost Lost His Life.

S. A. Stid, of Mason, Mich., will never forget his terrible exposure to a malarial storm. "It gave me a dreadful cold," he writes, "that caused severe pains in my chest, so it was hard for me to breathe. A neighbor gave me several doses of Dr. King's New Discovery which brought great relief. The doctor said I was on the verge of pneumonia, but to continue with the Discovery. I did so and two bottles completely cured me." Use only this quick, safe, reliable medicine for coughs, colds or any throat or lung trouble. Price 75c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by All Druggists.

Laying or Lying.

The ready wit of the late Eugene Warr, lawyer and voice-maker, is shown in this story, taken from Lippincott's Magazine:

When he resigned the office of commissioner of pensions, his friend gave him a dinner at his home in Kansas City. The guests were equally divided between Kansans and Missourians from the Missouri city of the same name. Much good-natured chaffing took place. "You Kansans," said a Missourian "always have your brass bands going and your flags flying. We in Missouri get tired of your cockade-wearing. I believe what have you decided about the hen, for instance, does she sit or does she stand?" "We don't bother about things like that," replied Warr. "What pasture is it, when she cackles does she lift or has she laid?"

Unique Situation.

It is a rather unique situation in Louisville, the metropolis of Kentucky, that there is no newspaper support for the national Republican ticket. The Evening Post, which has been published constantly Republican, is supporting the Democratic nominee for president and vice president. The Herald, along with the rest of Mr. John C. Shaffer's papers in other cities, is lined up with Col. Roosevelt's Progressive party. It has been many a year since the national Republican ticket was utterly without newspaper representation in Louisville.—Frankfort State Journal.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Kentucky's Big Debt.

The condition of the state treasury of Kentucky is not especially reassuring or satisfactory. The following statement issued as of July 1, 1912, by Auditor Roseworth, shows that the debt is growing rapidly and unless something is done to get more revenue, the state will be in the worst financial condition for many years. Sinking fund balance, $2,336.64; school fund, $136,769.25; general expenditure fund, $11,351.13; treasury $30,548.51; out standing warrants last month, $1,518,901.63; outstanding warrants, $1,804,463.90. The state is now paying $19,000 per month in interest alone.

Guard Your Children Against Bowel Trouble

Many children at an early age become constipated, and frequently serious consequences result. Not being able to realize his own condition, a child's bowels should be constantly watched, and a gentle laxative given when necessary. Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are especially well adapted to women and children. The Sisters of Christian Charity, 531 Charles St., Luzerne, Pa., who attend many cases of sickness say of them:

"Some time ago we began using Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets and find that we like them very much. Their action is excellent and we are grateful for having been made acquainted with them. We have had good results in every case and the Sisters are very much pleased."

The form and flavor of any medicine is very important, no matter who is to take it. The taste and appearance are especially important when children are concerned. All parents know how hard it is to give the average child "medicine," even though the taste is partially disguised. In using Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets, however, this difficulty is overcome. The shape of the tablets, their appearance and candy-like taste at once appeal to any child, with the result that they are taken without objection.

The rich chocolate flavor and absence of other taste, make Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets the ideal remedy for children.

If the first box fails to benefit, the price is returned. Ask your druggist. A box of 25 doses costs only 25 cents. Never sold in bulk. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

JOBS HANDED OUT AT FRANKFORT

By the State Geological Board.

Unlimited Authority is Given to the Members of the Board by the Bill.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 16.—Assistants and topographers were appointed tonight by the advisory board of the geological survey, which met with Gov. McCreary at the mansion. State Geologist J. H. Hoeling, was elected secretary of the survey. W. H. Cunningham, of Ashland, and A. F. Crider, of Marion, were appointed assistant geologists. F. J. McKay, of Bowling Green, secretary, and L. M. Soller, of Lexington, topographer. The assistants receive $1,800, the topographer $1,200 and the secretary $1,000.

This was the first meeting of the board. The survey office will be removed here from Lexington and the work of locating waterpower sites and mineral deposits will be begun as will the topographing of the state in co-operation with the Federal survey. There will also be a soil survey. Mr. Hoeling said the men appointed were all experienced in the work.

The board members are John C. C. Mayo, of Pimmitville, "the multi-millionaire, who has recently ordered money from mining and lumber interests which he controls in south-eastern Kentucky; Gen. Percy Huley, of Frankfort, Mayo's silent partner and political adviser; Rufus Vannant, of Ashland, wealthy lumber "king," and chairman of the Democratic state campaign committee, and L. B. Homington, of Richmond, author of the bill.

In the hands of Mayo, Huley and Vannant, the appointments are considered the most successful political plans that the governor could nestow on his backers.

According to Section 2, of an act establishing and governing a geological survey, "the governor shall appoint a competent person as state geologist, who shall have a thorough knowledge of his profession; and Section 5 says, "the state geologist may employ who competent assistant geologists and such clerical help, topographers, etc., as may be required for the survey at the expense of the state. The chief geologist's salary shall be $2,500 a year, according to Section three.

By the provisions of Section 2, "there shall be an advisory board consisting of five members, one of whom shall be the governor, who shall be president of the board, and the four other members shall be appointed by the governor. All four of the said members shall serve four years, or until their successors are appointed and have qualified."

The duties of the geological director and his corps are defined and prescribed in the second paragraph of Section 4: "Under the direction and control of the directors, the corps of the survey shall proceed to make a careful geological, mineralogical, chemical, physical and soil surveys of the state; to enter upon record an accurate statement of the extent of water powers and water courses; to locate coal, oil, metallic deposits, clays, ores, building materials, etc., to report characteristics and compositions of the same."

The "joker"—or part of the act which contains the joke and rich meat of the political plan—is contained in section nine:

"The reports of the survey shall be prepared as rapidly as possible and submitted to the advisory board, which shall have the power to approve and authorize the printing of same, the cost thereof to be paid out of the general expenditure fund, as in the case of other official reports. The director, with the approval of the advisory board, is authorized to publish in the newspapers or in pamphlet form any discoveries or results of special interest, the cost of such special publication to be paid out of the money appropriated for the survey. The advisory board shall determine the number of copies of each report to be printed, and the manner of distribution thereof."

Mayo, Huley and Vannant were three of the members of the "Big Four" of the last legislature. They were known as the "Administration allies," and, while claiming to have no direct interest in legislative proceedings, were on the job all the time. They performed some very important services for the administration.

Burning Charcoal.

There are many farmers who use charcoal for various purposes about the farm and it may be helpful for them to know how to burn it. Here is a plan that one man has followed very successfully:

Lay poles on the ground about four feet apart, then lay poles or logs crosswise on these, gradually drawing in at the ends and sides until topped out, all the time filling the vacant places with small chunks of wood so the pile will be quite compact when done. Put the large logs in middle of pile and the smaller ones outside to keep the dirt from going through onto the wood. Cover with about six inches of dirt, leaving a hole at one end close to the ground, having plenty of kindling at this opening to start the fire with. When it gets well started come up the hole and punch holes along the sides, but not too many or it will get too hot. When blue smoke begins to come out, close up the holes and punch others. Green logs will char as well as dry and any kind of wood may be used. Be sure to have plenty of dry wood to start with. The kiln has burned sufficiently when it has quit smoking.—Ex.
